

EDA University Center at Fayetteville State University

The FSU EDA University Center engages with the FSU Innovation and Entrepreneurship Hub to leverage expertise for accelerated growth in output and jobs. Such key support empowers businesses navigating changing market conditions, pursuing new opportunities, and improving resiliency. There will be focus on reaching underserved segments of the population and distressed communities. It facilitates connections between FSU, entrepreneurs, and ecosystem partners to support regional economic health and empowerment through focused engagement. This will catalyze growth by working to maximize the economic impact of recently approved historic levels of regional capital investment.

The FSU EDA University Center's support and services include:

University

Fayetteville State University

Center Director

TBA

Center Location

Innovation & Entrepreneurship Hub
Bronco Square – Fayetteville, NC

Interim Contact Information

Caroline Glackin, PhD
cglackin@uncfsu.edu

<https://www.uncfsu.edu/academics/colleges-schools-and-departments/broadwell-college-of-business-and-economics/outreach-centers/eda-university-center>

Center Since 2012

- Entrepreneurship support for entrepreneurs & innovators & small business owners
- Access to readiness assessment, training, consulting, & technical assistance
- Guidance on available entrepreneurial resources to support success
- Contractor assistance for increased success in bidding on capital projects
- Information on regional entrepreneurial and small business training and other events
- Availability of technology, meeting and networking space, and a maker space
- Assistance for credentialing and certification to enhance access to capital and markets.
- Provision of short-term projects related to branding, marketing, communication, financing, and operation for qualified entrepreneurs, startups, and small businesses

